Tutoring Experience

Over the past 19 years, I have worked with students from various countries, guiding them through their IB, A-Level, and IGCSE maths courses. My focus has always been to provide clear explanations and help students build a strong foundation in mathematics, which has led to successful outcomes in their exams.

In addition to teaching IB Maths, I have also supported students in AP Calculus, helping them grasp complex mathematical concepts and preparing them for their college-level courses. My diverse experience allows me to tailor my teaching to meet the unique needs of each student.
